

About Me

I am a passionate dance student with eight years of rigorous training at the National Conservatory Dance School (EDCN) in Lisbon. Currently, I am completing my 8th year of dance training alongside my final year of academic studies. Throughout my journey, I have had the privilege of performing in diverse productions, from classical ballets to neo-classical and contemporary works, which has deepened my commitment to artistic expression and technical precision. I am highly motivated to continue refining my skills and exploring new opportunities, with a goal of contributing to innovative projects in the world of dance.
