To whom it may concern,

Reference: Oliver Hornby

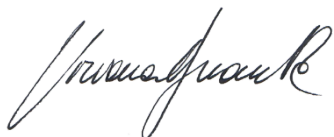

Oliver Hornby is currently enrolled as a student on the Pre-Professional Dance Programme at English National Ballet School. He joined the School in September 2021 and is due to graduate in July 2024.

Oliver is a hardworking and dedicated student with a professional and positive attitude. During his time with the School he has developed his classical ballet and contemporary dance techniques as well as his performance skills as he prepares for upcoming performances. He has shown himself to be a willing collaborator in the studio when working with choreographers.

As part of the course, Oliver has been training in classical ballet and contemporary, as well as receiving coaching in repertoire from a variety of highly experienced dancers and coaches. Students also have performance opportunities working with international choreographers to have new works created for them.

I have no hesitation in recommending him to you. I hope you will consider him for your company.

Yours faithfully

Viviana Durante
