koken & genieten

Koken & genieten offers an abundance of recipes for readers who wish to serve something special, but aren't too keen on standing in the kitchen all day. Each issue is packed with delicious recipes, ranging from very light and low-calorie dishes to delicious chocolate cakes and cream us. Koken & genieten includes regular columns with recipes for children, healthy food, kitchen suggestions and new products. Readers will additionally find cookingtips and tricks that can be used in the kitchen.

Target audience indication

- Mainly women, aged between 35 and 65
- Women who love to cook, but don't like complicated recipes
- Women with families of 2-4
- Women with part-time jobs, who are also interested in lifestyle, gardening and entertainment

Why advertise in koken & genieten

Koken & genieten readers like to serve their families something different on a regular basis. Buying their groceries on a xed day, they shop exactly for the ingredients that are suggested by the magazine. Their partner and children are big eaters, and after a long day at work or at school, a square meal is exactly what they need. Readers of koken & genieten enjoy cooking, but the price/quality ratio of the products they buy is not irrelevant. As their families are very important, readers are happy to spend their time and money on them, though. In terms of food, trips, gadgets and products for personal care, they are not lacking anything.

koken & genieten closely cooperates with advertisers and their media agencies in order to create strong campaigns and achieve creative solutions. There are many ways to draw our reader's attention to your brand, product or service. Obviously, we are always open to your suggestions and ideas.
