Further information For the 5th year the medical and scientific committee Limpe Dismov -Sin promotes the Parkinson's Disease Day. On November the 30th, throughout Italy, there will take place initiatives and meetings of information and discussion, that will involve members of the local venues, through the support of doctors and professionals. In a country where life expectancy is getting higher and there are 230,000 people directly affected by Parkinson, it is important to turn the spotlight of information on a chronic disease that affects not only patients but also caregivers.

The Parkinson's Disease Day takes place with the support of EPDA - European Parkinson's Disease Association and it is an opportunity to raise the awareness of the disease, its spread, early detection and therapeutic prospects. The event is part of the European protocol for the complex issue of Healthy Ageing which aims to improve the quality of population's life, facing aging social challenge. Limpe Dismov-Sin promotes a fund raising campaign finalized to a scientific study on the frequency and the causes of "falling" in patients with Parkinson's disease in Italy.

People can support research giving a financial contribution through the website www.giornataparkinson.it or through a small donation sending SMS or calling the charity number "45593" from an Italian number.
