

Fact sheet Hexagon Purus and Wystrach

About Hexagon Purus

Hexagon Purus, a Hexagon Composites company, is a world leading provider of hydrogen type 4 high-pressure cylinders, battery packs and vehicle systems integration for fuel cell electric and battery electric vehicles. Hexagon Purus enables zero emission solutions for light, medium and heavy-duty vehicles, buses, ground storage, distribution, maritime, rail and aerospace.

Employees: Approx. 200 employees

Locations: Headquartered in Ålesund, Norway, with production facilities in Kassel, Germany, Taneytown, US and Kelowna, Canada.

About Wystrach

Founded in 1987 in Weeze, Germany, Wystrach is a full-service provider of high-pressure storage and transportation solutions for hydrogen and other gases. Its portfolio includes stationary bundles; containers of all sizes; tank systems for trains, buses, and trucks; and storage solutions, e.g. for power-to-gas applications. We also offer a mobile hydrogen refueling station, the WyRefueler, in our range of products. In addition to in-house design and production capabilities, Wystrach offers end-to-end service packages for assembly, commissioning, and maintenance, and also provides support on approval matters.

Employees: Approx. 200 employees

Location: Weeze, Germany

Biographies – Management:

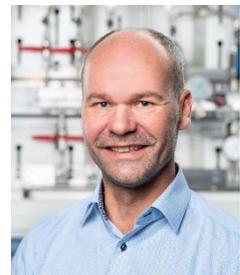

Wolfgang Wolter

Wolfgang Wolter is the co-CEO and co-owner of Wystrach. Having started his career at ThyssenKrupp, Wolfgang Wolter joined Wystrach from its founding year in 1988. He gradually took over responsibility for sales, technical design and product development. Together with his co-CEO Jochen Wystrach, Wolfgang Wolter developed Wystrach from a small company into an international market leader in high-pressure solutions for storage and transport of hydrogen and other gases.

Jochen Wystrach

Jochen Wystrach is the co-CEO and co-owner of Wystrach. After studying business administration and holding various professional positions, he joined his father's company in 1999 and was initially in charge of purchasing, finance, and HR. Since 2009, he has held joint responsibility for the company's management together with Wolfgang Wolter. Together, the duo have driven the company's systematic expansion strategy.

Morten Holum

Morten Holum has been President & CEO of Hexagon Purus since March 2020. He joined Hexagon in 2019 as Executive Vice President and Chief Operating Officer. Morten has extensive international business expertise from different industries and prior to joining Hexagon, he was CEO of Saferoad Group, a leading European supplier of road safety and road infrastructure solutions. He has also held key management positions in Norske Skog, Norsk Hydro and American Airlines.

Michael Kleschinski

Michael Kleschinski has been Executive Vice President of Hexagon Purus in March 2020. From 2016, Michael was President of Hexagon Purus and has previously held different management positions within production and engineering.

