„Cookies” are small files used as identification marks. KIP, as the service administrator, sends cookies through the Tpay website and stores them on user’s hard drive. Our "cookies" are protected from reading by third parties using standard web browser security system. We use two types of cookies:

1. short-term ("session cookies"), which are stored on the user's device and remain there until the end of the browser session. After that they are permanently deleted from the device memory;
2. long-term (permanent) cookies stored on the user'sft machine, where they remain until they are cleared.

In none of the described above cases are downloaded or saved any personal or confidential information.

The purpose of using "cookies" is enabling configuration of the display, in particular:

- adaptation of Web content to the preferences of the Service User and optimization use of personalised website;
- recognition of the User Service device and its location using Google Analytics (without linking these data with information about the user's IP address or other data);
- display of properly formatted website, tailored to individual needs of the User;
- remembering the settings chosen by the User and User interface customization;
- collecting anonymous statistical information on visitors.

In terms of the language or region, from which the User comes from, KIP does not use "cookies" without User’s permission. Consent may be expressed on their own and at any time with the approval of this Policy or by the settings of User’s web browser (using the appropriate configuration settings). Acceptance of "cookies" is not necessary to use the Tpay service, however its absence may cause that some features will not work correctly. You may, at any time, remove "cookies" using the available features in your web browser

The use of „cookies” by the KIP does not cause any damage to the user's computer or changes in telecommunications configuration in the user's device and software installed on this device.
