

Your food is killing our animals!

Don't feed our animals—they aren't hungry!

The animals at the zoo have a precisely formulated diet. Every ingredient and its quantity are carefully selected to meet their needs.

Human food (sweets, baked goods, and, in inappropriate amounts, even fruits and vegetables) is harmful to them and can cause:

- digestive problems
- poisoning
- choking
- long-term organ damage
- death

Even a small piece of inappropriate or excess food can have fatal consequences!