Dear Greg and Lukasz

Firstly, thank you for meeting with me to explain your brain cancer project. Brainstrust – the brain cancer people is a charitable organisation with national reach in the UK. We're a unique charity with an inspirational story. We build a service to help everyone affected by a brain tumour so that they feel less alone, less afraid and more in control. We know the value of having the right information at the right time and this project, the Trustedoctor project, which matches patients to expert opinion, will be a valuable part of the patient's armour in their battle to get the best care for them.

Warm wishes

Founder and director of services and policy
